"Be a booster, huh?" . . . "we need more shells" . . . "Andy, the pictures" . . . "Sue, where's the dummy?" . . . "more candids" . . . "but Mr. Mac" . . . — these are just a sample of expressions which plagued the Beachcomber staff. Guided by our class adviser, Mr. Wilson, Editor-in-Chief Hilda Kaplan, Art Editor Alice Vail, and Literary Editor Pat Berdinka and their staffs went diligently to work, coordinating their efforts with Business Manager Henry Carlozzi and his money-making staff. Giving invaluable assistance was Mr. Deutschmann (business and camera counselor), Mr. Gildersleeve (our literary wizard), and, of course, the incomparable Mr. MacCammond (how could we have ever gotten the pictures out without him and Andy Ignotowitz).

We worked very hard and had fun making up our Beachcomber. We sincerely hope you will enjoy reading it as much as we have enjoyed preparing it.

MR. GILBERT M. BANKER
Supervising Principal

The principal of Greenport High School needs little introduction to us. We know him to be a very just and conscientious man, willing to listen impartially to the minutest problem any of us may have. Indeed, we are fortunate to have had the privilege of having such a fine gentleman and scholar as Mr. Banker for our principal during our four years of high school.

IN MEMORIAM

With a quiet dignity Mr. Leonard G. Krancher conscientiously carried on the business office of our school. We offer this sincere eulogy to a man who devoted his life to improve our education.

LEONARD G. KRANCHER

CLAUDE E. LOUNSBERRY

In the two short years of Mr. Claude E. Lounsberry's driving leadership the music department became an important asset of our school. He was frank in his opinions and forceful in his teaching. With his passing our teaching staff lost a great man.

CLASS

As eager Freshmen in 1954, with Mr. Deutschmann and Mr. Carruthers as our presiding advisers, we started paving the way by electing Alice Vail, president, David Higbee, vice-president, Diane Powers, secretary, and Bill Hanff, treasurer, with Hilda Kaplan and Henry Carlozzi as Student Council representatives.

Our first big project, "The Shamrock Shindig," was a booming success and toward the end of the year we sponsored a food sale and rummage sale which boosted our treasury.

Sophomore year found us feeling more confident. With Mr. Carruthers as our adviser we again elected Alice, David, and Diane to the same offices and Tommy Wysocki, treasurer, with Bill Sullivan, Penny Coyle and Sue Hudson representing the Student Council. During the Christmas season we sponsored "Winter Wonderland," our first dance of the year which received much deserved praise. Other projects that year were our second dance, "Sophomore Spring Festival," a food sale and a rummage sale.

As assured upper-classmen, we Juniors with Mr. Wilson, advisor, elected Alice Vail, president, Dave Higbee, vice-president, Diane Powers, secretary, Richard Sledjeski, treasurer, with Marianne Rinehart, Nate Goldin and Doris Wilson as Student Council representatives. Immediately we planned our Hallowe'en dance and before we knew it we were again making decorations for our St.

HISTORY

Valentine's Dance. Then the event which everyone looks forward to for years came — we selected our class rings. Towards the end of the year we had two foods sales, and in conjunction with the Seniors, our Prom, which will always be memorable, and the Jr.-Sr. Picnic.

An air of superiority filled the halls of GHS when we finally made the grade as full-fledged Seniors. We elected for our last year: Bob Howard, president, Dave Higbee, vice president, Diane Powers, secretary, and Hilda Kaplan, treasurer. With Henry Carlozzi, Bill Sullivan and Sue Hudson representing us in the Student Council, and with Mr. Wilson as our advisor, we tended the refreshment booth at the football games and then started our door to door campaign selling magazine subscriptions. Marion Warren received the high salesman award.

Next we began reading scripts for "The Remarkable Incident at Carson Corners," our Senior play. Under the superb direction of Mr. Wilson, we presented it on the 7th and 8th of March with much success.

Then our long-awaited never-to-be-forgotten Washington trip came and went, followed by the Jr.-Sr. Prom and Picnic.

Graduation finally closed the doors for us as Seniors and we each went our own way but we'll never forget our four years at GHS.

CLASS

As my jet-mobile screeches to a halt before the Miami Beach Hotel, (an exclusive establishment belonging to that hotel-restaurant monopolizer Richard Sledjeski) my eyes light upon the distinguished crowd entering under the proud banner bearing "Grand Reunion — Class of 1958".

I park my "baby" behind an elegant example of the famous car designer Sandra Appelt, and watch the horrified doorman greet Mary Lou Gagen, trailed by her three sets of twins. In the lounge I find the famed filibuster, John Bakelaar (known politically as "the Pentagon Pacer") conversing with Pat Berdinka, the famous designer of the "curvalure" pencil, and Jack Ryder, her business manager. They are discussing the scandal rumored of Alice Vail, the U.S. ambassador to Switzerland, who has, it is said, eloped with a mountain climber. They are soon joined by George Wetmore, chief arbitrator at the U.N., and William Sullivan of Sullivan Enterprises, Inc.

I leave the lounge after greeting Barbara Blados, co-editor of "Mad" magazine, and Andy Ignotowicz, president of Kodak Co. By the swimming pool I find Marion Hulse, Welk's new "champagne lady"; Diane Powers, the nightclub blues singer, and John Madsen, 1965's answer to Presley, combining their talents to the amusement of William Hanff, who now sings soprano with the Metropolitan Opera. In the pool I see Linda Thomas of Aquacade fame, Karen Wilson, the coach of America's only all-girl football team, Nate Goldin (yes, HE who has taken Hollywood by storm), and Marge Hiddink who runs an exclusive boys' school. There are Ned Payne, A&P manager; Marianne Rinehart, "nurse of the year", Anna Marie Hope, the movie starlet, and Eugene Moisa, owner of Orient Farms, Inc., all listening to their jovial host joke with Bob Howard, manager of the Harlem Globetrotters, Richard Breese, and Jack Skrezec, rival coaches of the Army and Navy football teams.

I enter the bar, order one of Henry Carlozzi's pizzas, (those succulent delicacies which have captured the American appetite) and glance at the TV set where Penny Coyle is pitching for the Brooklyn (whoops, Los Angeles) Dodgers. I am joined by Al Bondarchuk, the card shark who challenges Maverick on Channel 3, and Art Nichols, the kiddies' idol, who rides shotgun for Wyatt Earp. We notice Tom Wysocki, who is an official mattress-tester for Beauty Sleep, accompanied by the glamorous Jane Lynch, TV's Private Secretary. Roger Willioms, controversial columnist for the New York Times, enters and joins the crowd around Paul Wysocki of B.S., M.A., Ph.D. fame.

In the cocktail lounge a fashion show, featuring Susan Hudson Originals modeled by Rita Fiore, is in session. Karen Cranford, the chemist who discovered nuclear nylon, Hilda Kaplan, head of the U.S. Department of Internal Revenue (dues, anyone?) and Diana Latham, famous anthropologist, are discussing the gowns with Shirley Trower, famous cartoonist and creator of L'il Mooney, a character based on the exploits of Dave Higbee, the Air Force captain credited with being the first man to reach the moon.

Doris Wilson, WINS disk jockey, Marian Warren of TV's "Vallely's Ding Dong School" and Peggy Kart, who teaches in dear old GHS come up to me and ask about the absentees. It seems Seth Webb couldn't leave his diamond mine in Africa and Wilbur Cook is making a movie "My Harem" for MGM. We notice Henry Vail, the Texas millionaire handing out cigars to Wayne Raynor, editor of "Hot Rod" magazine. The girls leave to congratulate Henry on his twins and I am left with nostalgic memories of the days when Harry's hooligans inhabited 307 and studied, scrimped, and screamed through four harried but happy years.

Wishing you success,
an old classmate

P.S. By the way, Mr. H. G. Wilson has successfully retired, but wild horses couldn't drag him to this reunion.

CLASS OF

After settling down in rooms 313 and 315, the Class of 1959 began the task of struggling through its third high school year. The Juniors elected the following officers: James Salminen, president; John Gloria, vice president; Carole Grathwohl, secretary; Joseph Wells, treasurer. Their Student Council representatives were Athena Moskovey and James Salminen. As in the past two years, Mr. Deutschmann became their faithful class adviser.

Their first undertaking was to choose the class ring. By a majority vote, the ring was a ship set in its stone became the official ring of the Juniors. Much to the delight of everyone the rings arrived right after Thanksgiving. A food sale in November brought relief to the fund set aside for the long desired Washington trip. The Valentine Dance was an affair which was a lot of fun for everyone who attended it. When June rolled around, all the Juniors pitched in to help make the Junior-Senior Prom the tremendous success that it was.

During the year the Junior Class had a large representation in athletic activities. Many of them participated in band and chorus.

Since the Juniors have completed their third year, they are looking forward forward to their senior year, the goal of anyone who has ever entered school.

The Senior Band, under the capable guidance of Mr. Laurence Sartor, has had a very successful year. During the football season they surprised us all with their peppy marches and imaginative halftime shows. The Annual Christmas Program was received as one of the best ever, — inspiring and well-done. With the ushering in of Spring, the North Fork Concert was presented, with Greenport High School acting as host. The Annual May Concert, given May 9th, was most entertaining and included in its program a Wind Ensemble, and featured sections. With the Graduation ceremony, the band finished out a very successful year.

SENIOR PLAY

The make-up room was stifling, the atmosphere was tense, and the air was filled with nervous whispers . . . "I'm scared", "Where's my prop?", "Gosh, you look old", for suddenly it was March 7th and in ten short minutes, at 8:30 P. M., the G.H.S. auditorium curtains would part on "The Remarkable Incident at Carson Corners", our senior play.

We stood in the wings and while we nervously awaited the call for "places" we reminisced. We remembered the six short, anxious but hilarious weeks of rehearsal . . . the suspense of try-outs . . . the night we stumbled through the first act without scripts . . . the ten minute breaks . . . Mr. Bombardier's fill-in for Mr. Wright . . . Mr. Wilson's patient "try it again" . . . the dragging cues . . . the card games . . . the short tempers . . . the relieved laughter.

The houselights dimmed, the curtains parted, and the "parents" made their entrance. We relaxed to the audience's response and soon it was over with only a few more memories . . . the handshakes . . . "We did it" . . . the confusion of the make-up room . . . and finally, the parties.

We had passed another milestone, successfully, and we would never forget "The Remarkable Incident at Carson Corners."

CHAMPIONS!

The G. H. S. football team had an outstanding season again this year, going undefeated for the second year in a row. Thirty eight candidates reported for practice on September 1st with hopes of repeating the previous year's record. With the loss of seven members of last year's varsity, the season didn't look too bright. But with the help of Coaches Wells and Manwaring, Coach Jackson put together a well-balanced eleven.

Returning from last year's varsity were: Jack Skrezec, switching over from halfback to fullback and doing an outstanding job; Bob Howard, filling in one halfback position and doing a job any coach would be proud of; George Wetmore, a scrappy guard, along with Dave Cervone at tackle improving tremendously, playing terrific ball; and Jerry Martocchia moving from guard to tackle, also playing great ball.

Rounding out this year's eleven backfield were Harry Breese, Dorrie Jackson Jr., and Ronnie Quarty, who surprised everyone and did a terrific job. On the line were able bodied men such as John Wydur and Carl Utz at ends, Dave Higbee at the other guard and Richard Sledjeski and Arthur Nichols who were as stone walls in the center of the defensive line.

Showing great promise for future years were: Tim Hudson, Mike Kaplan, Irving Tolliver, Roger Cornell, Ronald DeBlasio, Dave Corazzini, Caleb Hodges, Joe Fieldler, Dick Klos.

On November 19th, the first official basketball practice was called by Coach Wells. This year was more or less a rebuilding year, coming after two fine seasons in which Greenport ended up with 29 wins and 7 losses. The team lacked experience because of the graduation route which saw such standouts as Dick Breese, who rewrote the G.H.S. record books, Jim LaBad, Frank Swann, Ken Mosby and Tom Lillis, all who did outstanding jobs last year.

BASEBALL

TRACK

Last year the G.H.S. Track Team under the watchful eye of Coach Wells won the title of County Champions in class B. In the Amityville Relay, the team placed first and set a new county record in the mile relay; also it set a new record for the Freshman Medley Relay. While on its triumphant march to victory the track team received the honor of placing first in the County Meet and East End Meet. During the season the team went undefeated at all five of the meets it attended.

This year's squad shows plenty of promise and has high hopes of keeping the championship in Greenport for another year.

The varsity hockey and volleyball teams made good appearances at the annual playdays, with the varsity basketball team winning two out of three games. Softball season has not yet begun as we go to press, but this might be a banner year. The highlight of the year was, as always, the Gym Show, presented March 28th and enjoyed by everyone.

WASHINGTON

It was a chilly 5:56 A.M. on April 7th as the L.I.R.R. groaned out of Greenport, carrying forty-seven sleepy but anticipant seniors, bound for Washington, D.C. The girls, all clad in their Easter finery, were eagerly chattering but three hours later when we left Penn Station, everyone had settled down to a mad routine of visiting our fellow travelers from Shelter Island and Southold.

At approximately 1:20 P.M. we checked in at the Roger Smith Hotel, our home for the next three days and started the tour of our capital by a trip to the U. S. Supreme Court. A guided tour of the city, dinner at the hotel, and a free evening (Ooh, that night! Remember the pool?) ended our first day at Washington. Guided tours, visits to all national monuments and shrines, the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, a moonlight cruise up the Potomac (!), dancing at a night club, those crazy nights in the hotel, the New Marine Statue, the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier . . . the days passed too quickly and we and our four weary chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. Gildersleeve, Coach Jackson, and Miss Coughlin, were soon on the train homeward bound with only sore feet and memories of our Washington trip.

THANK YOU

The success of a Beachcomber depends not only upon the class members and the staff, but heavily upon the financial support of the advertisers, patrons, and friends. The Class of 1958 wishes to especially express its gratitude to them.
